"Learn More About Our Economy & How to Succeed in the Workplace"

Dr. Bruce B. Rader, CFA

Temple University
Assistant Professor of Finance
Fox School of Business

Dr. Rader will explain the basis for the world economic crisis and the role played by the financial markets including the derivatives markets. His presentation will include the causes of the problems, the actions by the United States and the rest of the world to control the problems caused by the crisis and the implications of these actions. In addition he will present an analysis of what this means for global economy and the opportunities that the crisis has created. These opportunities will stem from a shift in the overall structure of the way that business is conducted in the post crisis world.

Michael Patterson

Assistant Vice President, Training and Development
TruMark Financial Credit Union

Mr. Patterson will be discussing his new book "Promotions Are Not Served At The Deli Counter". Many individuals are not sure which steps to take to succeed in life and work. Others feel they are entitled to get everything they desire. You will receive straight-forward advice on how to succeed in work and life, and avoid the pitfalls individuals often get trapped in. Mr. Patterson facilitates workshops on diverse topics such as leadership, coaching, employee retention, emotional intelligence and communication skills. He has over 20 years experience in the banking industry and is a corporate trainer and a speaker for the past 11 years. All attendees will have an opportunity to purchase a signed copy of his book at 15% off the retail price.

This is the second of our complimentary seminar's on financial topics presented by The Friends of the Horsham Library to the community. To best serve seminar attendees and for overall planning purposes, reservations are encouraged and appreciated.
